

BROOKLYN INVADED BY 8,000 STONEMEN

Led by Rev. Dr. Stone, They Parade Streets With a Band.

MANY JOIN SOCIETY

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 10.—Preaching cleaner living, promise to teach it to folks here.

A new force in religion, a force so quiet that its rapid growth has been almost unperceived, invaded Brooklyn yesterday. It is the Stonemasons' Fellowship, and 8,000 Stonemasons, led by their founder, the Rev. Dr. Henry Stone, came to New York City, just as New York City is the embodiment of an ideal in decent, clean living citizenship.

There are 146,000 Stonemasons in Philadelphia, and the 8,000 were but a sample, but Brooklyn gazed and rubbed its eyes, and then grew sober and thoughtful, as they marched through the streets in their marching bands, singing, playing, chanting hymns, a living Christian army.

They were busy all day. After the first meeting in the Thirteenth Street Baptist Church, three meetings were held in churches at which 500 new members were admitted into the fellowship. At the final one the Rev. Dr. Stone, who is the founder of the fellowship, was followed by most of the men of his church. Dr. Stone regarded that as pretty good, for he started in 1912 with but 500 men.

The meeting in the stony work in this city and stirred those who saw to it that they would not forget for many a day.

Parade With a Band. The meeting came at the end of a march through streets lined with Sunday school children, and a band of 100, led by the Stonemasons' band of 125 pieces, swung up Livingston street to Lafayette street, where the parade was held. A great Bible, open, behind him was a row of flags whipping in the breeze. There were the flag of the United States, the flag of the Stonemasons, and the Stonemasons' flag bearing a cross and the words "By This Sign Conquer."

On Lafayette street they went while they jammed the sidewalks. It was easy to march to that band. The bandmen played their way here, as did every other Stonemason in the line, and gave the marchers a new meaning. The organization, when they reached the armory, at Sumner and Jefferson avenues, they marched in units, they filled the whole east end of the floor.

Nearly 2,000 persons in the hall, and at one end were Borough President Pounds, Col. Sydney Grant and the Rev. Dr. Stone, Dr. Robert Rogers, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Dr. John E. Carson and the Rev. Nehemiah H. Benson and many other New Yorkers.

When the administration of the city was singing and as he killed the occasion and rising sounds of disorder on the floor below, it was easy to see how the city was being invaded. The city was being invaded by the Stonemasons, and the city was being invaded by the Stonemasons, and the city was being invaded by the Stonemasons.

SEEK R. R. LABOR COMPROMISE.

Wilson Leaders Would Adjust Compulsory Investigating Plan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Steps are being taken to bring about a compromise of the compulsory investigation plan for settling railroad labor disputes urged by President Wilson in his message.

It is understood some of the leaders close to the Administration have been in communication with the brotherhood of the railroad men that anything satisfactory to both sides eventually will result from the compromise.

Washington News will call a special meeting of his joint Congressional committee for Tuesday or Wednesday in the city, to expedite the legislation recommended by the President.

At the last meeting strong opposition was shown to the "compulsory arbitration" feature of the President's message.

COLUMBIA MOURNS DEAD.

Annual Memorial Service Held in St. Paul's Chapel.

Columbia University honored the memory of those of its members who died during the past year in the annual memorial service held in St. Paul's Chapel yesterday afternoon.

Dr. John E. Carson, president of the university, presided. At the last meeting strong opposition was shown to the "compulsory arbitration" feature of the President's message.

MRS. BEUTINGER TO WORK.

Will Collaborate With Playwright.

Then Get Out a Book. Mrs. Margaret C. Beutinger, who Thursday was acquitted of the murder of her husband, will strive to make a living for herself and her five children through writing. She has been invited by the father of Violet Fleming, the actress, to collaborate with him in a play. She will attempt this work and also will devote herself to a book of her travels and experiences.

Theatrical managers have made several tempting offers to her, but despite her need she is loath to accept because she refuses to be parted from her children.

Mrs. Beutinger and her oldest daughter, Margaret, attended mass and received communion in St. Aloysius Church, Caldwell, yesterday. After services she was visited by a score of friends, including several of the jurors who tried her. Her children, who were in school, were interrupted by her two trials, will return to Mount St. Dominic school to-morrow.

GREAT HIT MADE BY "OLIVER" IN TOMBS

Spends Day in Cell Reading Love Tales and Joking With Prisoners.

Even if "Oliver Osborne" were described, prior to his arrest in Chicago, as a man who did not care for the society of other men, he is making a great hit in the Tombs. More than one prisoner yesterday testified to Charles H. Wax's ability to entertain.

With the conference to-day between William Rand, Jr., and Federal officials the Oliver Osborne case will become less spectacular and more serious for the prisoner, but he isn't worrying. He spent the day in his cell reading love stories and exchanging jokes with other prisoners in the same tier. He sent word to reporters that he had been instructed not to talk about the presence of the United States District Attorney or his assistants.

In silence he was not to be outdone by the Tanner sisters and the lawyers in the case. The Tombs gathered to know the identity of the persons who are to corroborate Wax's story of his meetings with the Tanner—District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall asserts that these witnesses will come forward at the proper time—the men and women now involved in the affair will keep their own counsel. Wax has given to the District Attorney the names of the men and women who met him in company with Miss Tanner, and leads such as these are being investigated.

QUIET DANCE; ONLY 1 KILLED.

Murder Falls to Max Revelsky at Harlem Crackerjack.

During the social function Saturday night at the Harlem Crackerjack, a quiet dance, only one man was killed. The victim was a young man named Max Revelsky, 26 years old, of 418 East 185th street. A bullet through his brain had killed him; near by was a 38-caliber revolver with one shot fired. Powder marks on Max's forehead showed that the revolver had been held close.

An attempt was made to find out who killed Max, and a number of young men, described by the police as gangsters, were taken to the station house for questioning. They denied all knowledge of the shooting.

WARNS ABOUT NAVY BUILDING.

Admiral Taylor Points Out Scarcity of Skilled Labor.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Warning against undertaking too great a building program in navy plants during the next eighteen months is given in the latest report of Rear Admiral Taylor, chief constructor, made public to-day.

Because of the shortage of skilled labor resulting from the war, Admiral Taylor says, "additional new construction work must be undertaken at the navy yards with great care and recognition of the probability of delays."
